CORSICANA, TEXAS (75110) THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 30, 1972

'If You Ask Me...'

Carlene Langford and Ed Hamler don't see eye-to-eye as young philosopher Henry David Thoreau and the supercilious school board member who favors selective ignorance and stiff discipline in a scene from "The Night Thoreau Spent in Jail", which opens at 8 p.m. today in the arena theater of Navarro Junior College. Ticket Chairlady Darlene Glicksman told The Daily Sun at presstime about 20 tickets remain for the Friday night performance, and about 30 each for Saturday night and Sunday afternoon performances. Tickets will be sold at the door, if any remain, but they are going fast, and theatergoers who want to be sure of getting a seat should make reservations by calling 872-1951. Jaycee Yule Lighting Contest Entries Sought

The Corsicana Jaycees, in cooperation with Texas Power and Light Company, will again this year sponsor a Christmas lighting contest for residential homes in Corsicana, according to James Chapman, chairman.

He said a $30 prize will be awarded in each of the two categories, one for lighting arrangements costing less than $40 and the other for arrangements costing over $40.

The judging will begin at 7 p.m. Dec. 12, and the prizes will be awarded at the Jaycee meeting Dec. 15, he said. Judges have not yet been selected.

The lighting arrangements will be judged on originality, appearance and effectiveness in reflecting the Christmas spirit. He added that anyone interested in participating in the contest should contact him by mailing a letter to Jaycee Christmas Lighting Contest, 905 Easy Street, Corsicana, Tex. 75110. The letter should give the applicant's name and address and tell whether the application is for the under $40 or over $40 arrangement category.

Youths Save Seven Children from Fire

By JIM BUSH
Golden Circle Reporter

ENNIS—Seven small children ranging in age from five years down to six days old were rescued from a burning house located at 906 N. Kaufman, Hwy 75 Business Route, shortly after 10:30 a.m. today when an older sister and brother discovered the fire.

The fire of still undetermined origin occurred at the home of Mrs. Annie Mae Hereford while she was away.

A daughter, Brenda Hereford, 23, told this Daily Sun reporter she saw smoke coming from a closet in the house and hurriedly rescued the children, with the help of her brother Tony, age 11.

Brenda and Tony began leading and carrying out the smaller children, who were not aware the house was ablaze.

"The blaze was over our head," she said as they rescued two neighboring children, Tanya Lynn Kelley, age 2, and Tara Kelley, 8-months old, along with their own brothers and sisters: Bryan Keith, 2; Angela, 1, Dana, a six-day-old infant, and 5-year-old Rodney Hereford.

The older children didn't know how the fire started, and Ennis Firemen on the scene had not determined the cause of the blaze which heavily damaged the large one-story residence.

According to the rescuers, none of the small children was burned in fleeing from the fire.

More Trees Due

Corsicana Optimists will get a second load of Scotch Pine trees in Tuesday from the woods of Montana in preparation for opening their Christmas Tree lot at a new location this year, Club President Gerald Atkeisson announced Saturday.

The first batch of trees, more than 350, came in Saturday by truck and were unloaded behind the Corsicana Savings Association from whose new southside parking lot the trees will be sold. Heretofore, the Optimists Christmas Tree lot has been located on the Corsicana National Bank's parking lot.

Just when Optimists will begin selling trees is uncertain at this point, President Atkeisson said, as stands must be built for the trees and these will be constructed as a project of CHS vocational students early this week. The tree lot is slated to open officially by Friday.

Count Starts With 100 Hours To Blast-off

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The launch team fed electrical power to a Saturn V rocket today to start the long countdown for Apollo 17, the last U.S. journey to the moon in the foreseeable future.

The countdown clock began ticking right on schedule at 8:30 a.m. EST, aiming for a liftoff of the giant rocket at 9:53 p.m. next Wednesday, the first night launching of a U.S. manned space flight.

Other early activity included filling the water tanks of the lunar and command ships, Challenger and America.

The clock read 104 hours 30 minutes as it started. It will be halted at several planned points to provide launch crew rest periods and catchup time for any item that might fall behind schedule.

Early activity includes feeding electrical power to the three stages of the 36-story-tall booster and filling water tanks in the lunar and command ships, Challenger and America.

The clock starts ticking at 104 hours, 30 minutes. It will be halted at several planned points to provide launch crews with rest periods and catchup time for any item that might fall behind schedule.

Key events in the countdown include installation of pyrotechnic devices, activating batteries, loading the command ship's power-producing fuel cells, servicing the two space vehicles and pumping more than one million gallons of fuel into the Saturn 5 tanks.

The astronauts who will make the last Apollo voyage, Eugene A. Cernan, geologist Harrison H. Schmitt and Ronald E. Evans planned to spend most of the day in spaceship simulators, rehearsing the launching and the firing out of earth orbit toward the moon.

It is their last day of formal training. On Friday they undergo an extensive physical examination and from Saturday until launch day they have their choice of how they want to prepare for the flight — in simulators, review sessions, geology briefings or flying T38 jet planes in proficiency runs.

Cernan and Schmitt, the first scientist picked for space flight, are to land on the moon Dec. 11 for a record stay of 75 hours, during which they plan three surface excursions, each lasting seven hours. They are to drive a moon car about 23 miles in their quest for lunar secrets.

The landing site is named Taurus-Littrow and is located in the northeast quadrant of the moon on the edge of the Sea of Serenity.

Court Clerk Resigns Post

David Moore, court reporter for the 13th Judicial District Court, today announced his resignation effective Dec. 31.

Moore said he is resigning to accept a position as court reporter for the 59th Judicial District Court in Sherman. The 59th District Court covers Grayson and Collin Counties, and is presided over by Judge David H. Brown of Sherman.

Moore, who recently was elected to the Board of Directors of the Texas Shorthand Reporters Association, said, "I will miss my friends in Corsicana, but this is a great opportunity for me to move ahead." He is a native of Brownwood and worked in Wichita Falls before appointment as court reporter for the 13th District Court by Judge James C. Sewell in January of 1969.

Wreck Here Claims One

Carlton Albert Long, 32, of Dallas, a native of Corsicana, died early Sunday morning following a one-car collision on IH 45 about 3.6 miles north of Corsicana. A 15-year old Corsicana passenger, Lonnie Jones of 1243 W. 5th Ave., was injured in the accident, according to Sgt. J.F. Scott of the Texas Highway Patrol.

The accident occurred at about 12:15 a.m. Sunday, according to investigating Highway Patrolmen Clayton Smith and Lloyd Allison. Long died at 5:37 a.m. at Memorial Hospital.

Jones suffered a laceration to an eyelid, according to a hospital spokesman. He was admitted to the hospital and released later Sunday.

The officers reported that the vehicle was southbound on IH 45 when it veered off the roadway and collided with an overpass pillar.

Funeral services for Long, a native of Corsicana, will be at 2 p.m. Tuesday at the College Hill Church of Christ here with Ministers Howard White and Frank Morgan officiating. Burial will be in Oakwood Cemetery under the direction of Corley Funeral Home.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Shelby June Long, and two daughters, Angela and Paula Long, all of the Dallas home; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E.C. Long of Corsicana; three brothers, Chester, Jerry and Carlson Long, all of Corsicana; and three sisters, Mrs. Larry Tally of Whitewright, Tex., and Miss Betty Long and Mrs. Billy Whitener, both of Corsicana.

Pallbearers will be Charles Isbell, Jerry Travis, Rex Junior, Jack Ivey, David Herod, Larry DeMoss, Allen Skinner and Gary Humphries.

Viet Envoy Meets Nixon And Henry

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon arranged a second meeting today with South Vietnam's special envoy Nguyen Phu Duc at the White House to continue discussions on the Vietnam peace negotiations.

Duc also met this morning at the White House for the second time separately with presidential national security advisor Henry A. Kissinger.

The morning meeting was set for 11:30 a.m. with Duc.

The White House also announced a meeting just beforehand between the President and the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

Although the session with the Joint Chiefs was announced only moments before it got under way, deputy press secretary Gerald L. Warren said it had been scheduled for some time "to review the entire situation in South Vietnam."

Nixon and Duc, a special representative of South Vietnam's President Nguyen Van Thieu, met for 2½ hours Wednesday. It was originally scheduled to last an hour.

Ronald L. Ziegler, the White House spokesman, said the session was "a very detailed discussion, and a very frank discussion," but he refused to disclose the substance of the talks.

This attitude has marked the administration's responses to all questions recently about the state of the peace negotiations, and South Vietnamese sources have indicated the White House has demanded silence on their part.

Nevertheless, diplomatic sources in Saigon said Duc would propose a Nixon-Thieu meeting to reinforce the South Vietnamese view that no agreement should be signed that lacks a written pledge for North Vietnam to withdraw all its troops from the South.

Smile--You're on 'Candid Sewer'

Corsicana has utilized sophisticated means to inspect its 30-inch outfall sewer line to ascertain just what condition the line is in and what needs to be done to put it back in first class condition.

The sophisticated inspection was achieved by a closed-circuit miniature tv camera that was manuvered through the more than a mile-long line from manhole-to-manhole. The inspection was conducted by the Naylor Company of Arlington, whose crew began the survey Monday and concluded Tuesday afternoon.

"The inspection with the closed-circuit television equipment costs approximately $700, but it is money well spent," City Manager Jack Russell said.

It saved time and many man hours of excavation work to trench out the fill over the line to determine where the line has collapsed, cracked or leaking at the joints.

Manager Russell said the unique method of inspecting the line's condition from the interior will enable the city to determine quickly just where the large collector line needs reapirs and where sections of joint have to be replaced. It is a relatively new method for making such inspections for line troubles.

The television camera inspection technique could have been employed by the Naylor Co. to inspect Corsicana's sewer main graduated down size to an eight-inch main, but City Manager Russell noted "we can check condition of the smaller size lines with 'smoke bomb' testing." He was referring to another method the City employed for the first time earlier this year when it engaged the services of a specialty firm to insert a type of smoke bomb in manholes and watch for curls of smoke to rise through the ground pinpointing breaks.

The Naylor Company's two-man crew operates from a specially equipped van truck which houses the television monitor screen and other monitoing equipment. Operator Foreman Rick Bell sits before the monitor screen in the van and uses two-way radio to direct as his assistant, Gary Congar, handwinds a portable winch cable that tows the television camera through the line. A running log is kept by Bell of what trouble he spots and the exact location according to the electronically gauged measuring device attached to the camera skid. When there is something of major significance about which the City would want a permanent record, a special Polaroid camera is swung before the tv monitor screen, an instant picture taken, and data noted to correspond with the running log.

Restoration of the outfall line—which begins to the east of Corsicana at E. 5th Ave. and extends south to the old disposal plant, and from that plant further south to the "new" disposal plant—is one of the major improvements approved in the recent $900,000 sewer bond issue.

Man Charged With Rape

A 24-year-old Corsicana man is in custody in Navarro County jail today under $40,000 bond after having been charged Sunday afternoon with the rape of a 22-year-old Houston school teacher, according to Navarro County Deputy Sheriff Harry Rogers.

Johnny Ray Lee, 1306 E. Sixth Ave. was arrested by Corsicana Police and Texas highway patrolmen shortly before noon Sunday after some tourists alerted police the deputy said.

According to Rogers, the woman said she was driving from Dallas back to Houston when her car ran out of gasoline on IH 45 just north of Chambers Creek, and Lee stopped to assist her.

The deputy said the woman got into the car with the man and he took her to a service station where they purchased some gasoline. As they were driving back to the woman's car, the man allegedly drove instead to a house in the east part of the county where he threatened her with bodily harm unless she submitted.

Rogers said the woman reported that her assailant twisted her arm and held a gun on her as he threatened her.

Police were unable to find a gun in connection with the incident.

The deputy said the assailant then drove the woman back to her car and poured the gasoline in the vehicle. Two men in a passing car who saw the man and woman on the highway notified Corsicana police that something seemed suspicious. Upon investigation, the woman reported that she had been raped and the assailant had just left in a white car.

Lee was stopped by police assisted by Texas Highway Patrol officers, and the case was soon afterward turned over to the Sheriff's Department.

Rogers said the woman was taken to Navarro County Memorail Hospital where it was confirmed that she had just had sexual relations.

Campaign Winding up

The Chamber of Commerce is pointing toward closing out its 1972 membership campaign to achieve a goal of 550 members for the year by Dec. 13.

The Membership Committee met Tuesday at 4 p.m. with Chairman Rogers Ray and began contacts of a list of 23 "new" prospects whose affiliation in the Chamber will be sought by the Dec. 13 date.

At the same time, the committee was given the names of 11 members in arrears in their current dues.

Jackson To Be Razed

Corsicana School Trustees, in a special noon board meeting Thursday, voted unanimously to enter into contract with Ray's Salvage of Corsicana to clear off the old Jackson School property, which burned after it was abandoned for classroom use.

A motion by Board Member Raymond Hampel accepted the bid of $5,850 of the firm which is owned by A.R. Bamburg. He is to comply with the specifications and complete the job in 180 working days. The firm will remove all trash, concrete slabs, fill holes and completely clear the property.

The only other board business was acceptance of the audit for the year ending Aug. 31, 1972, which was submitted by the auditing firm of Wilcox, Pattillo, Brown and Hill. Two firm representatives said "the books were in good shape" and had no negative comments about the school's financial affairs.

$500 Ring Tops Bargain Fare In Auction

By BETTY JEAN CLAY
City Editor

Coattails are snapping in the breeze—and a nippy breeze at that—as the Optimists scurry around town making frantic last-minute preparations for their biggest fund-raising event of the year—the Optimist Club Auction.

The eighth annual auction is set for 7 p.m. Saturday in the warmth of Navarro Mall with plenty of parking places for those who each year turn out this event.

Again this year, the Optimists will have 200 items for sale, and the public has been urged to see just what is offered in the club's full-page newspaper ad Friday. A little bit of everything will be in the offing.

"We would have more, but 200 items is all we can list in a full-page ad," proclaimed Permanent Auction Chairman Pete Breithaupt who has been ramrodding the rounding up of the auction goods and services.

As in the past, the vocal talents of Jim Stephenson will be utilized as the auctioneer. Although a Kiwanian, Stephenson—like Breithaupt—has become a permanent fixture, and Optimists agree there's nobody better at getting the bid up to a price commensurate with the value of the donated items.

In the past seven years, the Optimists have raised more than $36,000 to finance their youth program work.

Last year, the auction had a goal of $5,500 toward the various youth programs, and it was the most successful in history with $6,000 raised.

"We're ahooting for a goal of $6,00 this year and we've got to get a minimum of $5,000," Chairman Breithaupt said. He explained the club "owes" the YMCA "right now" $2,500 on this past season's Gra-Y football program which has just ended, and the club is committed to making the final $2,500 payment to Corsicana High School on the pledge toward putting down the Tartan basketball floor covering in the high school gym. The club already has adopted a $9,000 youth work budget for the ensuing year, and making the auction a success is a necessity.

The public may attend the auction and bid on the scene, or may call in bids, he said.

Up to 5 p.m. Saturday, the public can call in bids on as any items, by number, as listed in Friday's ad, by telephoning 2-2412.

Beginning with the start of the auction at the Mall, bids may be phoned in to the special auction number, 2-3971. If necessary, the auction will continue right up to midnight Saturday if all 200 items haven't been sold before then. Last the year, the auctioneer's gavel sounded on the sale of the final item.

While everything in the auction is a value to be vied for by a responsive public, the "star attraction" from standpoint of total dollar value is a $500 diamond ring contributed by Daiches Jewelers, Chairman Breithaupt said.

"We have got almost anything and everything you could want, and it's a good way to get some Christmas shopping done while helping out a worthy cause. This year we will have a live heifer at auction, two sides of dressed beef, turkeys, hams radio, portable TVs, clocks and $25 gift certificates from stores all over town, among other things," Breithaupt ballyhooed.

Rather than send out letters individually to past supporters of the auction, this year the club is reproducing its letter appeal as part of its Daily Sun page advertisement.

And while they are beating the drums for their own project, they are plugging in their ad the public's support of the Kiwanis Club's chili supper which precedes the auction. The chili supper is from 5 to 8 p.m. at Collins Middle School cafetorium and Optimists, Chairman Breithaupt said, urge residents "to go eat supper with the Kiwanians, then come out to the Mall to the auction."

Going...Going...to the Auction

College Honor Group Looks to the Future

By JIM BUSH
Golden Circle Reporter

A group of 17 members of the District Phi Theta Kappa met Wednesday at Navarro Junior College to share ideas on the organization's Honors Program, discuss chapter activities and problems, and collect suggestions from members in regard to future district activities.

Navarro, Henderson and Hill junior colleges were represented at the meeting called by Coordinator of PTK Activities James Chapman, a government instructor at Navarro. In all there are six colleges represented in District Six of PTK, including McLennan Community College of Waco, Central Texas College, along with the three represented at the Wednesday meeting.
Wednesday meeting.

The theme of this year's PTK Honors Study Program, explained Chapman, is "Voices of Human Experience." Under the theme, PTK members will study the arts to learn more of esthetic views.

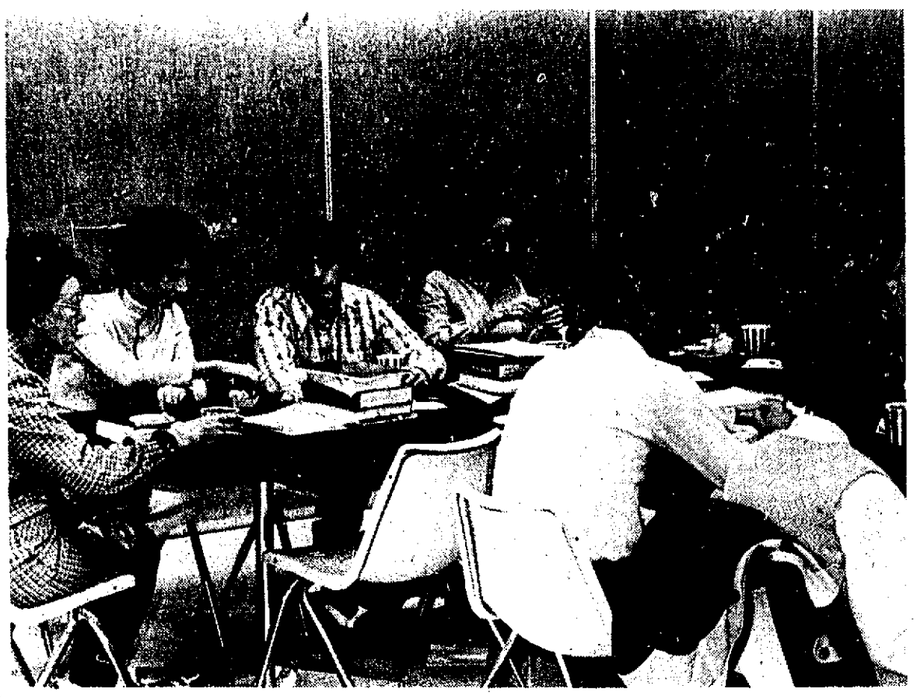

Members present at the meeting included David Campbell, Pamela Ingram, Sandra Brooks, Sue Hay, Keith Johnson, Dianna Crawford, Sharon Williams and Donald Williams—all of NJC. Representing other colleges were Mary Travis Eggleston of Henderson Junior College and John Stanelefer of Hill Junior College.

Others at the meeting included PTK sponsor Mrs. Geraldine Johnston, Director of Student Activities Susan Pearson; PTK President Terry Ross; Secretary Sherry Curry and sponsor David McCord of Hill Junior College. All except McCord attend NJC.

Future plans of PTK include a trip to the museum in Dallas on Dec. 5 and a trip to the Kimball Museum and Scott Theater on Jan. 6.

Today is also the last day of "Give-your-blood Days," a project sponsored by PTK under the theme, "It's a matter of life—for someone. It's a better life—for you."

Activities Coordinator Chapman said the National PTK Convention will be held in Houston this year. He also explained that "the study program of PTK builds toward the annual Honors Institute, which will be held this year at Endicott College in Beverly, Mass.

NJC Goverment Instructor Recognized By Texas Senate for Political Classes

A Navarro Junior College government instructor has been commended by the Texas Senate for giving his students "a practical insight into the operation of State government."

James Chapman was cited in a resolution introduced by outgoing State Senator Charles Wilson.

Chapman received the award for a state and local government class he conducts each year at Navarro. The class, composed of two sections, is a mock-up of the State Legislature.

The first half of the semester, Chapman teaches the course in a standard lecture format which covers the history of the state government and insights into the constitution of the state.

The second half of the semester, Chapman said, is spent "getting an insight into participatory citizenship, rather than spectator citizenship."

The class is divided into two sections. One section, limited to 32 members, constitutes the state senate. One member of the class is the Lieutenant Governor, and the remainder serve as senators from each state senatorial district. The senators must learn about the region they represent and introduce bills.

The other section of the legislature, the House, has no limit on the number of students, since the actual House is composed of 150 members. They also must learn about their districts and introduce bills.

Chapman said the atmosphere is as realistic as possible even to the inclusion of outside pressures such as lobbyists.

The course began in the spring of 1969 as an experiment in the teaching of Texas government. Originally it was only attempted during the spring semester, but it is now offered during both long semesters.

Each semester the class takes a trip to Austin to view the actual governmental processes. In Austin the students meet governmental leaders and have a chance to get their opinions on various issues.

The class is a departure from the sit-down approach to classrooms. During the course of a session, the students walk around the room trying to secure support for their causes, much as actual legislators do in Austin.

The class has complete control of the proceedings, and Chapman said no one has ever abused the privilege.

Once the legislature voted to oust Chapman, playing the part of a lobbyist, from the chambers. He left.

His primary role is to act as advisor and answer questions as they may arise.

The son of a Methodist minister, Chapman attended Henderson County Junior College and Stephen F. Austin State University.

Union Officials Praise Nixon for Labor Chief

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon's choice of a building trades leader to be his secretary of labor brought a rush of public praise from most union officials.

Some elements of organized labor, however, especially those who supported Sen. George McGovern for President, were rankled over the selection of New York "hard hat" Peter J. Brennan.

Joseph A. Beirne of the AFL-CIO Communications Workers offered both "congratulations" and condolences." He noted Brennan is the first trade union official to be appointed to the Labor post since the Eisenhower administration.

Beirne said if Nixon really wanted to please labor he should have named a union man as secretary of health, education and welfare.

AFL-CIO President George Meany, whom the White House said was consulted in advance of the appointment, commented, "It was a very good choice and he'll make a very fine secretary of labor."

Longshoreman's Union president Thomas W. Gleason, said Brennan is "a very capable guy. He comes out of a longshoreman family so he must be a good guy."

John F. Henning, chief of the California Labor Federation AFL-CIO, also referred to the absence of any labor leader in the Cabinet since plumbers union leader Martin P. Durkin.

Durkin lasted only nine months under President Eisenhower, quitting in 1953 in a policy disagreement.

The big, independent United Auto Workers union had no official comment, but sources in its Detroit headquarters indicated a notable lack of enthusiasm toward Brennan's appointment.

Some union sources called Nixon's selection a straight out political payoff to the AFL-CIO construction and building trades, who gave Nixon considerable election support.

Brennan is president of the New York City Construction and Building Trades Council, the same stamping grounds that the 78-year-old Meany came from 50 years ago. Meany was neutral during the presidential campaign, which was viewed as helping Nixon.

Brennan won national attention in Nixon's first administration when he came to the White House to present Nixon with a metal construction worker's "hard hat," a symbol of the construction worker and—in the minds of some critics—of building trades' resistance to opening up more jobs to minority group workers.

This followed a fight in New York between construction workers and youths demonstrating against Nixon's Vietnam war policies.

McElhenny Asks Liquor License

A fourth person, Harold McElhenny, has filed a petition with the Navarro County Clerk's office and requested a hearing from Navarro County Judge Kenneth Douglas to acquire a permit to sell beer and wine for off-premises consumption in the Town of Angus.

The petition filed by McElhenny Wednesday proposes to establish the business in the name of Mac's Quick Stop to be located along the west-side service road by the Angus overpass.

Douglas said the hearing on McElhenny's petition is scheduled for 1:30 p.m. Monday in the Navarro County Courtroom.

A hearing is also scheduled for a beer and wine retailers permit on application by William Royce Stewart. He proposes to establish a business at 101 Ware St. to be called "Valley Inn."

A hearing on application by Eben E. Stover, doing business as "Angus Barbecue" was scheduled for 9 a.m. in the county courtroom today, but necessary information for the application (verification of fingerprints) has not been received by the applicant for the case to be heard. Douglas said the hearing on the Stover application has been reset for 9 a.m. Friday in the county courtroom.

Another application, filed by George McCasland, is pending until a dispute over control of the proposed business site is settled, Doublas said.

Mrs. Sheppard Talks Nutrition

BLOOMING GROVE—The first of a series of four nutrition programs to be presented by Mrs. June Sheppard to senior citizens and other residents has been held at the Blooming Grove Community Action Center. Thirteen were in attendance.

Mrs. Sheppard presented a program "You Are As Old As You Eat." She discussed the "Guide to Good Eating" by serving the milk, meat, vegetable, fruit, and the bread and cereals group. She asked the question "Are you a good eater?" and "Do you use the four basic food groups." An explanation was given by Mrs. Sheppard about the planning of a pleasing and satisfying meal which will provide good nutrition.

Mrs. Catherine Porter, NCAC Community Developer for the West Navarro Area, issued an invitation to all who were present to attend the Senior Citizen's Craft Classes, Tuesday from 10:00 a.m. to 12 noon, each week. She announced that the next program on good nutrition is scheduled for Jan. 8, 1973.

Present were Mmes. Catherine Porter, Vela Mae Blanfort, Lucy Prescott, Lottie Alexander, Dora Kagler, Ed Kagler, Lizzie Melton, Ella Mae Holifield, Lillian Williams, Mae Frances Walker, Florine Faulk, Nora Williams, and Helen Farish.

Rebekahs Host Birthday Party

The Home Rebekah Lodge Nol 128 sponsored its monthly birthday party Sunday at the Odd Fellow and Rebekah Children's Home. The honorees, Henry Young, Tommy Berger, Barbara Manry, Cynthia Sellers, Billy Hackler, Sammy Carter and Tammy Carter, were recognized by the hostess group and presented with gifts.

Mrs. Alice Bonner gave the invocation and Inez Compton, Ann Key, Minnie Cates, Bill Key, Ernie Fincher, Vera Harwell and Mary Estell of the sponsoring organization served refreshments from a table decorated in a Thanksgiving theme and centered with white-frosted birthday dake.

NO U.S. DEAD

SAIGON (AP) — No Americans were reported killed in Vietnam last week, but three were missing or captured, the U.S. Command reported today. It was the first weekly casualty summary without fatalities since January 1965, when the United States was just beginning its massive troop buildup.

Another 11 Americans were wounded.

EMHOUSE

Mrs. Zadabelle Shropshire of Alvarado spent the weekend with her sister, Mrs. LaBesse Spruill, and brother, Clifton Benton.

Mr. and Mrs. Vol Cantrell of Whitney visited his sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Shadix on Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnie Pattison were honored on their 50th wedding anniversary at the Community Center on Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Mamie Colins is a patient at the Memorial hospital in Corsicana.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Martin and daughters of Tyler spent Sunday with their parents and grandparents.

Mrs. Nancy Johnson has returned home after a few days visit with friends in Crawley.

Mrs. A. M. Shows was hostess for the regular meeting of the W.S.C.S. at her home on Monday afternoon. Mrs. Nell Elkins serves as program leader.

Mrs. Gloria Dover and family are being welcomed as new residents of the community.

Mmes. Ida Stokes and Tempie Stokes visited relatives here on Monday.

Mrs. Lucille Brown was a Waco business visitor on Wednesday.

J. J. Robinson who owns the Robinson Trading Post invited Highway Patrolmen Clayton Smith and Lloyd Allison and Minister Bill Grimes of Angus to go deer hunting on his lease in Fairfield.

They waited hours and didn't see one deer.

Finally, Clayton Smith spotted one and shot him dead, HE THOUGHT.

After shooting the deer Clayton walked over and "poked" him several times with his gun. That deer didn't even quiver, he didn't breathe; he sure played it cool.

So Clayton, feeling very proud of himself, walked over to a tree, took his jacket off and leaned his gun against the tree. Just as he did, quick as lightning, that deer jumped up and ran for parts unknown. They haven't seen him since.

Robinson said, "Aunt Louise, all I know to tell you is that a highway patrolman can catch a car without a DOUBT—but when it comes to catching a deer—well, that is another story." Smile!

Clayton, may I offer you my personal sympathy? I have never gone deer hunting, and I don't want to go. But I have had some fish almost to the bank of the lake and someway or somehow just at the last minute they'd flip off the hook.

Thought for the day: The great essentials of happiness are something to do, something to love, and something to hope for.

If you have a favorite quote, short, short poem, have seen a funny sign or have news of any kind, please write. See you Thursday.

BAZETTE NEWS

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Marshall, Sr. and Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Ainsworth had as their visitors Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Johnie Spencer, Mrs. Dump Bradford and Mrs. Pearl Batic of Corsicana.

My son Mike Foster and his wife Sue have been visiting Yours Truly, Mike's Uncle Raymond Carroll, and Sue's parents, the Garland Grays of Roane since Sunday.

Tuesday I invited Sue to go with me to the Business & Professional Women's Club Dinner at the Kinsloe House. I thought she would enjoy hearing the speaker, Mrs. Lynn Barton, who is a member of the Athens Club and also our District Director. Lynn is also Senior Vice President and Cashier of the First National Bank in Athens.

Sue consented to go and enjoyed the dinner and program very much. She especially enjoyed visiting with Mrs. Sam Cooper, who is the daughter of our president, Mrs. Margaret Dosser. Sue's mother works with Sam Cooper at the Navarro Mall Pharmacy.

As you probably read in the paper, Margaret won first prize for her recipe "Euda's Oklahoma Date Rolls" in our annual Cook Book. She made a batch and brought them down and left them in the coffee room at our office. This woman MUST be organized. She does find the time for so many things.

Dear Aunt Louise, "I have been a subscriber to the Daily Sun for several months now and would like for you to know that we enjoy your column very much.

"I was particularly interested in the Favorite Recipe section that came out on November 22nd. There was one that I especially liked and that was the one for Elephant Stew. Would you please contact Mr. No. Name at Box 1453 and find out WHERE HE BUYS HIS ELEPHANTS. S-M-I-L-E." Signed, Sincerely, Mrs. "Doris" David Moore, 521 N. 5th, Teague, Texas.

Dors, I am pleased to hear from you. I received so many laughs, questions, and letters on Mr. No Name's recipe that I personally think he should have received at least an Honorary Mention.

Dick Harris, son of Mr. and Mrs. Neil Harris has moved his family to Marville, Georgia where he is now a pilot for Eastern Airlines.

Wade Hull celebrated his first birthday last Sunday. His granddad, Mr. Bolt Hull took Wade to the parade Monday night.

Charles Smith of the Red Circle celebrated his birthday last Sunday.

Sharmon Cooper, Miss Corsicana 1971 - 1972 was a real beauty leading the parade. Corsicana is very proud of you, Sharmon.

Lyden "Snuffy" Smith is recuperating at home from hepatitis. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Smith.

Mrs. L. O. Blackston spent the holidays with her children, Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Blackston and grandson, Jason.

George Ann Dosser is doing real well with her Drill Team in Lufkin. She and husband Ronnie are due to receive their Masters Degree in the spring from Stephen F. Austin College.

Jacquie Roberts, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W.B. Roberts, is attending Art Classes at Navarro Junior College and enjoying them thoroughly.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Foster and Glenda of Dallas were holiday guests in the home of Mrs. Foster's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Nave.

If you have a favorite recipe for the holidays, have seen a funny sign or know any news at all write to Aunt Louise and we'll spread the word. 'See you Sunday.

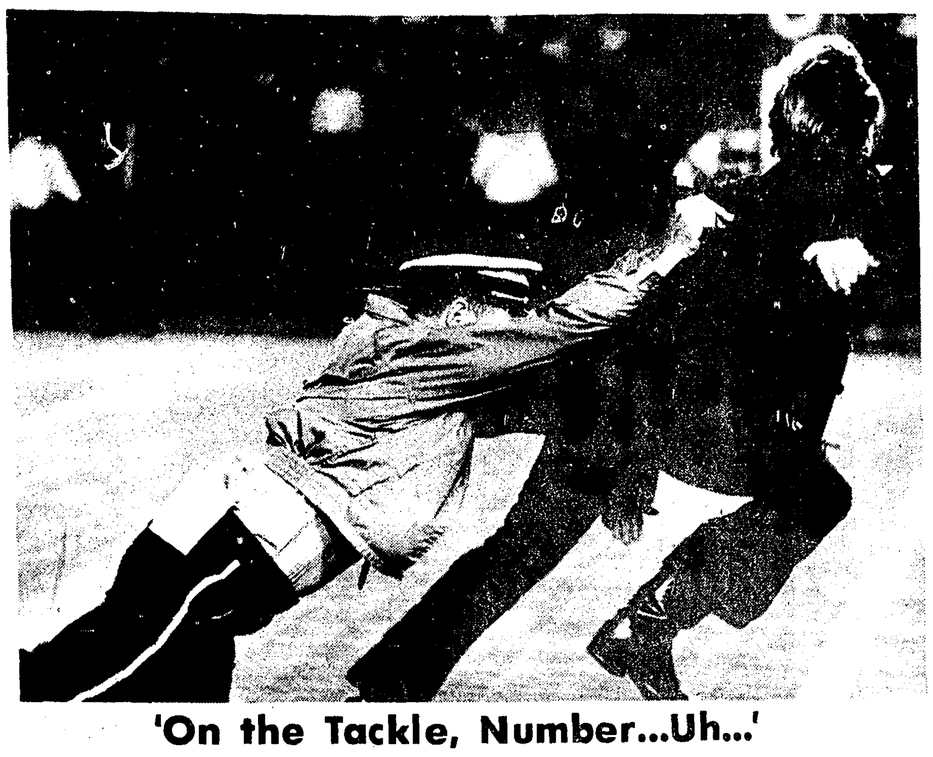

Tigers' Loyalty Banquet

Adderley Bids Pokes A Sad But Fond 'Adios'

DALLAS (AP) — Herb Adderley spoke the words softly with no trace of bitterness: "It's obvious to me my future isn't with the Dallas Cowboys ... this will be my last year."

The 12-year National Football League cornerback, veteran of four Super Bowls, was benched three games ago in favor of third year man Charlie Waters.

Coach Tom Landry said Adderley wasn't coming up with turnovers which was needed in the former All-NFL star's gambling style of play.

"I know I have some play left in me," said the 33-year-old Adderley. "I'm moving the same as I always have been. I feel great physically. I've never been what you would call a speed burner. But I can still go ... I just want the chance."

Adderley, who played in two Super Bowls for Green Bay before he was traded to Dallas where he played in two more, said he was used to more of a free lance style of play than that imposed on him by the Dallas system.

"I've been a reactor to what I see and I have to go for the ball to play my game," Adderley said. "I found myself hanging back because I was afraid of the way it would look in the films."

Adderley, who is on the last year of his contract with the Cowboys, said "I hate to go. It's been a tremendous experience here. I've met some beautiful people and that's what life is all about.

"I go to practice with a smile. I thank God I'm healthy. And I feel a certain sadness for all the great players who haven't played in the Super Bowl like Gale Sayers, Sonny Jurgensen, Deacon Jones, Merlin Olsen, and Larry Wilson. They've played their heart out the same way I have for 10, 12, or 13 years and never had the thrill of the Super Bowl."

Adderley said "I feel very appreciative that the Cowboys thought I was good enough to make a trade for three years ago. I could have gone to another team and been completely forgotten."

He said "I think they want to go with youth at my cornerback position and I go along with the move they've made if Landry thinks that is for the best results of the team. I'm a team man ... I have to go along with a team situation .... I'm a team man ... and a winner."

He concluded his interview with The Associated Press, saying "I have to be truthful ... I think I helped the Cowboys and I played the best football I can possibly play ... I plan to go in and have a decent conversation about my situation at the end of the season. If there is any future left for me (with Dallas), I would appreciate knowing what the situation is. There's no doubt about my future here ... I'm not in it ...."

Franco Named Top Back Again

NEW YORK (AP) — The game was tied 10-10 in the fourth quarter when quarterback Terry Bradshaw handed the ball to Franco Harris.

"I was supposed to go to the left," said Pittsburgh's rookie running back. "But there was nothing there—so I just stopped and went back to the right."

Smart move. He wound up dashing 61 yards—within one of a touchdown—before two Minnesota defenders hauled him down. One play later, Bradshaw bulled over for the touchdown that sent the Steelers on the way to a "must win" last Sunday, a 23-10 triumph over the Vikings, who needed it just as much.

The game-breaking 61-yard draw play was only one indication of Harris' contribution to the victory that kept the Steelers tied with Cleveland atop the American Conference East.

A better indication—and the one that won him the selection today as The Associated Press Offensive Player of the Week in the National Football League—was the 128 yards he rolled up against the tough Minnesota defense, 12 of them coming on a first-quarter touchdown sweep.

It puts the Steelers' top draft choice, a 6-foot-2, 230-pounder from Penn State, in a unique and exclusive club since it's the second time this season Harris has been selected Player of the Week, joining Larry Brown of the Washington Redskins. Harris was chosen two weeks ago when he ripped through the Kansas City Chiefs for 134 yards.

Other nominees this week included wide receiver Otto Stowe of Miami, quarterback Daryle Lamonica of Oakland and running backs Altie Taylor of Detroit and Ron Johnson of the New York Giants.

Stowe, playing in place of injured Paul Warfield, caught six passes for 140 yards and two touchdowns as the Dolphins beat St. Louis 31-10 while Lamonica completed 14 of 21 passes for 174 yards, including nine of 10 for 126 in two second-period drives that ended with touchdown tosses and carried the Raiders past Kansas City 26-3. And Taylor and Johnson each rushed for 123 yards.

Cowboys Will Remember AP's Top Defender

REDWOOD CITY, Calif. (AP) — William Gerald "Skip" Vanderbundt, San Francisco 49er linebacker who carried a fumble and an intercepted pass to a pair of touchdowns against Dallas, says he was "just lucky." But his coach said ther was more to it than that.

"Sure he had luck on a couple of plays, but he was there because he was so alert," said Coach Dick Nolan of the Vanderbundt a performance that earned the linebacker selection Tuesday by the Associated Press as Defensive Player of the Week in the National Football League.

"It amazes me," said Vanderbundt. "I make a couple of lucky plays and get all this attention. Don't get me wrong. I like it, and it probably was one of my better games this year."

Ends Claude Humphrey of Atlanta and Bob Pollard of New Orleans also were nominated for defensive player of the week, along Baltimore linebackers Mike Curtis, Ray May and Ted Hendricks.

Vanderbundt, a 6-foot-3, 224-pound fourth year man, said, "I know I had a better game in Los Angeles against the Rams—sounder fundamentally than I did in Dallas, and we lost the Ram game, 31-7."

The 49ers beat the Super Bowl champs 31-10 in Dallas on Thanksgiving Day, and the victory gave them first place in the National Conference's West Division.

Coach Lee Smith displays some of the trophies that will be given away in the college's intramural competition this year at Navarro Junior College. Jane Wyatt, left and Lydia Sulak, NJC students, view the trophies in hopes of winning one for their team. The college's inter-club organizations competition will be held in basketball, volleyball, touch football, badmitton, paddle tennis and softball. (Sun Staff Photo by Tony Taylor)

POLICE BEAT

Burglaries of a home and a pickup truck were investigated Wednesday by Corsicana police.

Asst. Chief Doug Hightower investigated the overnight break-in of a pickup truck owned by Rogers Ray, Townhouse Apartments, 1025 N. 24th St., and theft of a .22 rifle. The looted vehicle was parked on the rear lot of the apartments.

Deanie Montgomery, 2012 Fairfax Dr., notified police of the discovery Wednesday of several articles stolen from his home and speculated the burglary occurred while he was away on a deer hunt Nov. 17-19. Missed were a movie camera and a movie projector and two radio control systems for model airplanes.

He informed investigating Capt. Fred Gray the latch was found broken on a locked screen door when he got back off the hunting trip but no entry was suspected at the time.

A two-car mishap at 2:15 p.m. Wednesday at W. 7th Ave. and S. Main St., sent four Malakoff residents, two women and two small children, to Memorial Hospital where they were treated for minor injuries and dismissed, investigating Corsicana police reported.

The accident involved a 1972 Toyota driven by Mrs. Linda T. Lamb, 24, Malakoff, and a 1969 Dodge pickup truck driven by James S. Roberton, 16, 2615 W. 7th Ave.

Taken by ambulance to the hospital were Mrs. Lamb, treated for a scalp laceration; 4-year-old Joseph Lamb, treated for bruises of the head and left leg; Mrs. Rosemary Haney, 28, treated for lip bruises, and 4-year-old Kandy D. Haney, treated for a laceration of her right hand.

Investigating Officer Neal Baggett said the small car was traveling east making a left turn when the collision with the westbound truck occurred with the impact spinning the car around striking the rear end against a metal pole.

The Book of Esther in the Bible makes no mention of God.

School Books Panel Filled

The Navarro County School Board of Trustees in special session Thursday morning in the office of Supt. J.H. Lanier appointed a committee of six persons to serve on the textbook committee to choose next year's books.

The motion by board member Bryant Merrell to accept the committee passed unanimously. The committee members include Rice School teachers Mr. and Mrs. Carl Cope, Mrs. Wilma Kimble, Mrs. Ina Tysons and Jim Ray. Mrs. Jean Corley of Dawson who works with the school district, is also a member. Lanier is an automatic member of all committees appointed by the board.

Phone Co. To Seek B.G. Rate Increase

BLOOMING GROVE

General Telephone representative M. A. Sydiskis is expected to appear before the Blooming Grove City Council Monday to ask once again for the telephone rate increase which was tabled during the council's last meeting.

The increase asked for would raise downtown business rates an additional $5 per month and raise resident's rates by $1.15. Rural business monthly rates would also increase by $5 and rural residents in the area would pay 65 cents additional.

Parade Awards Due

Presentations will be made by Corsicana Jaycees to prize winners in the annual Christmas Parade of last Monday night at the club's Friday noon luncheon at Westminster Presbyterian Church.

Cash awards of $25 will go to first place float by James L. Collins Catholic School; $15 to the second place float by Butterfly Bluebirds and $10 to the third prize float entered by the CHS Industrial Arts Clubs.

The first place trophy in the bands division will go to the Corsicana High School band and the second place trophy will be presented to the Dawson High School band.

NCAC To Talk 'Mainstream'

The Navarro County Action Committee Board of Directors' meeting scheduled for 7:30 p.m. Thursday at the NCAC Training Center will include discussion about ratification of the Mainstream program, according to NCAC Director Jerome Vacek.

He said there are new aspects to the proposed program which will require board consideration.

Other agenda items will include adoption of a contract with the department of Health, Education and Welfare for a Child Development program.

Other business, Vacek said, will include discussion concerning increasing terms of board members from three years to five years. He said legislation has left the length of terms of office a matter to be decided by the local boards and allows for a maximum of five-year terms.

WALLACE MAY RUN

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — Gov. George C. Wallace says he intends to remain active politically and is considering the possibility of running for a third term as governor in 1974 and for president again two years later.

Wallace made his remarks Wednesday at his first full-fledged news conference since he was wounded at Lareul, Md., last May 15.

The governor also said he has "no regrets" over his presidential campaign which left him paralyzed in both legs.

"If I had to go over it again I would go over it again," he said.

Wallace is still paralyzed from the waist down from one of the bullets which struck him after a campaign speech during the Maryland primary, which he won the next day.

Referring to the shooting, he said, "I knew this could happen. It's a chance everybody in public office takes.

"I have no regrets. I have no bitterness, no bitterness against the man who shot me. I have forgiven him."

Arthur Herman Bremer has since been convicted of the shooting.

Wallace was asked about a statement made in Washington by his national campaign director, Charles S. Snider, who said the governor might consider running for president as a Republican.

"I have no intention of leaving the Alabama Democratic party," Wallace said, "and I don't see the Republicans nominating me at all."

'BLACKWASH' CLAIMED

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) — Gov. Edwin W. Edwards has rejected as biased and unobjective an all-black investigating committee's report that police, state officials and Southern University administrators are to blame for campus violence in which two students died.

"I think it's as much a blackwash as they accuse the state of a whitewash," Edwards said Wednesday.

An official state investigating committee planned to reconvene today to interview the head of the university's campus police and other Southern officials.

Lancaster Preacher, Singer Set for Malakoff Youth Rally

MALAKOFF—"Christ for All—All for Christ" is the theme of the youth rally planned by the First Assembly of God Church in Malakoff for Friday at 8 p.m. in the Malakoff High School auditorium.

The speaker and soloist at the Rally will be John David Burkett of Lancaster, who has preached in Churches of the Malakoff area and was a guest singer at the "Black-Eyed Pea Jamobree Gospel Singing."

Special music and singing will be provided by a group from Denton and by local talent.

The purpose of the rally is "to share with others the marvelous gospel of Jesus Christ and the plan of salvation." Everyone is invited, according to spokesmen.
